Casting

\rightarrow \text{ conversion of one data type to another} pointer? \rightarrow \text{ address of data} Pointers are necessary for dynamically allocated memory.

Allocate — reserve get save const double \( E = 2.718 \);

#define E 2.718

#error DEBUG
#error In debugging code
#include <stdio.h>